Abstract :

It is said that history repeat itself, if we saw the history of civilization, we would find out that people live in the group they never Live alone and this sense bring the idea to establish villages, then villages took the form of town then town change into cities then cities turn into metropolitan cities. People for the various reason, it may be employment, education, health, find the way to the cities and they things change the infrastructure of the cities. This new comer has to face certain problem in the cities. Increasing urbanization has some effect on human being it is positive and negative effects which we see it in detail.

Introduction :

Change is the law of universe and in the universe everything is changing second by second. So on this planet where we are living change is naturally happen from the creation of our earth, up to the date. Lot of universal phenomenon and thing happened which give the shape and development to the earth. It may be scientific development or geographical development from the Ameba to the human being of creation happen. Man living in the cave in forest and the man living in the building in the cities. These are the fundamental development among human being from the last 50 years population has been increasing rapidly and rapid population growth cause the rural-unban migration people from the rural aria migrate to the city for the purpose of job and settle there, hence overcrowding issue must be common in many cities in the 21th century recently the global population is increasing from the 5.3 billion to the 6 billion by the year 2010 and it maybe increase up to the 9 billion by 2025. Now scientist found out that urban aria is the main cause of population growth because of its urban facilities of health and education, and lack of standard living, education, and health issue hence rural aria lack population growth in modern world. Also rural people for getting job, good education and health services, more to the cities, but this rapid population growth in the cities can cause lot of problems like slums aria, crimes, researcher predict that by the end of this century ½ world population will live in urban arias.

What is urbanization?

People more form rural to urban areas is called urbanization. It is long term process, it is also called the progressive development of people living in cities why people are incline to live in cities, because they are highly influenced by the idea that cities are better to live and modern, all development happen in the cities, cities have achieved better economy, political and social development better than the rural areas. Urbanization commonly found in the developed and developing countries, because people have the tendency to make closer to the town and cities, to get economic and social services, as well as education and health, services, population shifting from rural to the urban areas is called "Urbanization" and in this process population living in the rural areas are decreased.
